On Thursday the Duke of Edinburgh participants had their final hike before the overnight expedition in 2 weeks time. They climbed Mount Caburn and used the view to polish up their map reading skills. The group are working well together and there are a number of very able map readers in the group. Next week they will be with Mrs Trabucchi working out the food they need to take on the expedition.

Well done to John who threw the baseball 25.40 metres in the PE lesson on Monday.

Ms Mundy was so surprised that he threw it so far as she only had a 20-metre-long tape measure! An outstanding achievement John; Can anyone beat this?

On Wednesday evening we went to watch Banger Racing.

A Birthday Card for the Queen

On Tuesday morning the Lord Lieutenant of East Sussex came to visit HLSC; his name is Peter Field. He is the Queen's representative in Brighton and East Sussex. There was a special assembly, where pupils and staff had the opportunity to ask him about his job. He accepted a birthday card, which was made by the pupils at HLSC and he promised he will give it to the Queen.

Trainee Teacher

Beth is a trainee teacher and she has been on a 2 week work placement at HLSC. She has taught some drama lessons and also observed what goes on at HLSC. Beth starts her own career as a teacher in September and really enjoyed her experience, she said, "HLSC has been incredibly warm and welcoming. I've really enjoyed working with the students." Beth enjoyed her time with us so much, she doesn't want to leave!

French Visitors

We had a group of French deaf visitors from a school for deaf children in Paris. The school has 250 children. The visitors had a look at the accommodation and a tour of HLSC. They said the houses are great and they loved the Xbox and pictures we have, they are not allowed to have anything like that in their residential accommodation in Paris. We could communicate easily and some signs were the same like "disappointed" and "same" and "tour."

The visitors chatted with HLSC students. They would like us to visit them in Paris too!

Photography

In FE Olly has been busy making new photos from old. This is one he has taken of the school, showing it in the past and now. He has also made photos using images from famous films made in Brighton and matching them with the same view today.

He has now printed the pictures onto canvas which people can buy, so look out for these at the summer fair and snap up an original piece of artwork. Proceeds go towards Olly's Africa Bike ride and Hamilton Lodge.
